http://www2005.org/

IMPORTANT DATES

Paper submission deadline:	November 8, 2004
Author notification (papers):	January 28, 2005
Final papers due:	February 28, 2005
Poster submission deadline:	February 7, 2005
Author notification (posters):	March 7, 2005
Tutorial/workshop proposals deadline:	October 11, 2004
Panel proposals deadline:	November 8, 2004

Conference: May 10-14, 2005

WWW2005 CALL FOR PAPERS

The International World Wide Web Conference Committee (IW3C2) and Keio University cordially invites you to participate in the Fourteenth International World Wide Web Conference. It will be held in Chiba, Japan at Nippon Convention Center (or better known as Makuhari Messe). It is conveniently located between Narita/Tokyo International Airport and Tokyo.The conference consists of a three-day technical program, preceded by a day of tutorials and workshops and followed by a Developers' Day.

REFEREED PAPERS TRACK

WWW2005 seeks original papers describing research in all areas of the web. Papers should not have been published or be in submission at another conference or journal. Topics include but are not limited to:

· Applications
· Browsers and User Interfaces
· Data Mining
· Education
· Performance and Reliability
· Search
· Security / E-Commerce
· Semantic Web
· Web Engineering
· XML and Web Services

The14th International World Wide Web Conference
(WWW2005)

JAPAN

May 10(Tue)-14(Sat),2005

SPECIAL INTERESTS TRACK

· Embedded Web
· Hardware Device Innovation
· Industrial Experience
· W3C

Program Committee Co-Chairs
Fred Douglis - IBM Research
Prabhakar Raghavan - Verity, Inc.
Hideyuki Tokuda - Keio University

Tutorials/Workshops Co-Chairs
Hiroshi Hatta - OKI Electric Indsutry
Bebo White - Stanford Linear Accelerator Center

Conference Co-Chairs
Allan Ellis - Southern Cross University
Tatsuya Hagino - Keio University

IW3C2 Liaison to WWW2005
Vincent Shen - Hong Kong University of Science & Technology

Local Committee Chair
Nobuo Saito - Keio University

Conference Organizers
International World Wide Web
    Conference Committee (IW3C2)
Keio University

Conference Partners
World Wide Web Consortium
IFIP
Chiba City
Chiba Prefectural Government
E-Japan Forum
Informaiton Processing Society of Japan
Information - technology Promotion Agency,
    Japan
Internet Association Japan (IAJapan)
Interoperability Technology Association for Information Processing, Japan (INTAP)
Japan Information Processing Development
    Corporation Electronic Commerce Promoter
    Center
Japan Information Technology Services
    Industry Association
The Institute of Electronics, Infornmation and Communication Engineers
The Japanese Society for Artificial Intelligence

JAPAN

WWW
2005

The 14th International World Wide Web Conference