

Saiku

Simple web collaboration

The problem

- Poor team collaboration solutions
- Need to be in touch

Existing solutions

- Lotus Notes
- Microsoft Sharepoint
- Problem: Release cycles, installed software
- Desktop-only

Could you imagine Facebook's as a desktop application?

Saiku

- Simple web application.
- Manage many projects.
- People's collaboration, not users.
- Share messages, documents and tasks.

Saiku

- Open-source
- Hosted or installed
- Perfect for organizations and universities

The screenshot shows the Saiku web application interface. At the top, there is a blue navigation bar with the Saiku logo, a link to switch projects, and user information for Pablo Villalba. Below the navigation bar is a horizontal menu with options: Dashboard, Messages, To-Do's, Pages, People, and Chat. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column contains a chat log with four messages from Pablo Villalba, each with a timestamp. The right column contains a search chat box, a link to delete chat transcripts, a 'People Online' section showing Pablo Villalba as online, and a 'Chat Archive' section with links for various months. At the bottom of the chat log is a text input field and a 'Post Message' button. A vertical 'Feedback' button is located on the right side of the page.
